

VIÑA VILANO ROBLE

D.O. Ribera del Duero

WINERY

Is located in the village of Pedrosa de Duero, province of Burgos, internationally regarded as the most privileged wine-growing region within the Designation of Origin of Ribera del Duero, with aged vineyards dating back to its foundation in 1957. Currently, BODEGAS VIÑA VILANO owns over 300 hectares of “Tinta Fina” or “Tinta del País” grapes, a local strain of the world renowned “Tempranillo”. This represents a potential production of 2 million kg. of top quality grapes per harvest.

Over the last few years, the winery has installed state-of-the-art wine-making technology and built a cask ageing facility that holds American, French and Central European oak casks to produce the top qualities of our VIÑA VILANO range, made in the following categories: Young, Oak, Crianza, Reserva and Gran Reserva.

TASTING NOTE

Red cherry with a ruby rim, and medium-to-high intensity. To the nose, we find floral notes, aromas of ripe wood berries and hints of vanilla and liquorice. Rounded, estructured and persistent in the mouth. Altogether it is a very complex and harmonic wine.
