

PRADOREY RESERVA

D.O. Ribera del Duero

WINERY

PradoRey's history dates back to 1503 when the Earl of Ribadeo sold the Real Sitio de Ventosilla estate to Queen Isabella I of Castile, belonging to the Crown of Castile until 1521 when King Charles I bestowed the estate to the 2nd Marquis of Denia.

In 1600 his descendant the Duke of Lerma initiated its exploitation as an agricultural and livestock farm and also built the Palace.

The estate belonged to the Crown until the 19th century when it became the property of the Duke of Caldas who sublet it. After 1921 it became privately owned and became a model for the running of both agriculture and livestock.

TASTING NOTE

Of a vivid cherry colour, very bright and of high intensity. On the nose it is highly complex, with outstanding red fruit and blackcurrant compote, minerality and reminiscences of Chinese ink and some spices. Pleasant ripe fruit in the mouth, velvety and balsamic with interesting round matured long-standing tannins. A very lively wine.
